

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A first portable game board is formed by a combination of a collapsible table and at least one panel connectable to the table and having at least one game board pattern disposed on a first side of the panel. A second portable game board is formed by a combination of a sleeve
5 having a game board pattern disposed on at least one side of the sleeve and a panel insert. The second portable game board may be further combined with the collapsible table.